International Monetary Fund (IMF) has reiterated India’s gross domestic product (GDP) forecast for FY 2022 to 9.5 percent.

Apart from the IMF, several high-frequency indicators in India such as manufacturing and services PMI, IIP, and others signal towards economic recovery.

The agency has however downgraded the global economic forecast slightly – from 6.0 in July 2021 to 5.9 in October 2021. The paring in outlook reflects the existence of supply chain disruptions and disparity in vaccination rates in developed, developing and least-developed countries.

The agency suggests that the slow pace of recovery in unemployment is still impacting the rebound in global output, including India.
CPI inflation has been easing continuously post the uptick in May 2021 and has reached 4.35 in September 2021. The retail inflation was 5.3 percent in August 2021. While the moderation in CPI comes on the back of falling food prices, the non-food inflation remains elevated.

The retail inflation has stayed within the RBI’s target band of 2-6 percent since July of this year.

The inflation in urban areas was pegged at 4.57 - the lowest since September 2019.

In rural areas, the CPI reached 4.13 in September of this year compared to 5.28 in the previous month.

The WPI inflation eased to 10.66 in September 2021 after a slight uptick to 11.39 percent in August 2021. The wholesale price-based inflation has recorded double-digit growth for the sixth consecutive month.

The easing of WPI is due to the contraction of food prices; however, the inflation in manufacturing items and crude oil remained high.

Inflation rates through CPI and WPI

- CPI inflation has been easing continuously post the uptick in May 2021 and has reached 4.35 in September 2021. The retail inflation was 5.3 percent in August 2021.
- While the moderation in CPI comes on the back of falling food prices, the non-food inflation remains elevated.
- The retail inflation has stayed within the RBI’s target band of 2-6 percent since July of this year.
- The inflation in urban areas was pegged at 4.57 - the lowest since September 2019.
- In rural areas, the CPI reached 4.13 in September of this year compared to 5.28 in the previous month.
- The WPI inflation eased to 10.66 in September 2021 after a slight uptick to 11.39 percent in August 2021. The wholesale price-based inflation has recorded double-digit growth for the sixth consecutive month.
- The easing of WPI is due to the contraction of food prices; however, the inflation in manufacturing items and crude oil remained high.
The Manufacturing Purchasing Managers Index (PMI) expanded to 53.7 in September compared to 52.3 in August 2021.

The expansion comes from scaling up production amidst the strong demand conditions post the second wave of the pandemic.

India Services PMI eased marginally to 55.2 in September 2021 compared to 56.7 in the preceding month, albeit stayed in the expansion zone for two consecutive months.

The services activity remained elevated amidst the accommodative market conditions and rise in consumer footfall, improving the scope of hiring more workforce.

According to PMI parlance, a reading above 50 indicates expansion, while below 50 indicates contraction.

The non-food credit recorded a growth of 6.7 percent YoY in August 2021 and reached an 18-month high.

The onset of the festive season, limited-period offers on retail loans and low-interest rates have contributed to the credit growth.

Congruently, the personal loan growth accelerated to 12.5 percent in August 2021, compared to 8.5 percent in the same period the previous year, owing to the increase in home loans and loans against vehicles and gold jewellery.

The credit in the housing sector (including the priority sector) grew at 9.5 percent YoY in August 2021 compared to 8.5 in the year-ago period.
Eight core sector’s output accelerates to 11.6 percent in August

The output of eight core industries registered a growth of 11.6 percent YoY in August 2021. Industrial production has continued to record a double-digit growth since the last five months, although buoyed by the low base effect.

While mining and power sector industries exhibited higher output, the manufacturing levels eased slightly.

The general IIP reached 131.1 in August 2021, surpassing the August 2019 level of 126.2, signalling a robust rebound from the lull of the second wave.
The RBI’s Consumer Confidence Survey suggests that consumer sentiments have improved in September 2021 from the earlier ground.

The current situation index was at 57.7 in September 2021 compared to 48.6 in July 2021, and the future expectation index improved to 107.0 from 104.0 during the same period.

The current situation index reflects lower consumer pessimism on the economic, employment and income front. The opening up of activities, vaccination and festive season has bolstered the consumer sentiments amid the ongoing pandemic.

The future sentiments are also in the positive zone as consumers are optimistic about the economy, income and overall spending. Having said that, however, the consumers are still wary of price levels for the coming year.
India’s unemployment rate (6.86 percent) fell to a five-month low in September 2021 after a spike in August 2021.

The picking up of services and manufacturing activity has underpinned the employment scenario in urban areas.

The unemployment in urban areas declined to 8.62 percent in September 2021 compared to 9.78 percent the previous month.

The rural areas saw a decline to 6.86 percent in September of this year, the lowest post-March 2021.
